DiscussIT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Explain...

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

These protests and groups of people haven't suddenly started now since the president Trump's inauguration. These protests and groups of people have actually been going on and coming ever since he has been elected and even before that at times. But since Trump's inauguration these protests have been more frequent due to the executive orders has been signing off on like the Muslim ban (Ban of people flying into the U.S. from Libya, Syria, Iraq, Iran, Sudan, and Yemen.). Which really the only reason he did so is because he is trying to stop terrorists from coming over to America but really terrorists like those of 9/11 were actually from Egypt, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, and United Arab Emirates which means this ban does nothing in what it was intended for. Of course these protests will create a bigger split in this country because many people like the Muslims will be furious for their own people being banned from entering the free country of the United States of America. Other topics like abortion and rights of women will be a big concern for the American people especially the women obviously will be very concerned on what is allowed and isn't allowed anymore.
